

Signe Mezinska

Member

Signe is a Board Member of the NGO, Health Projects for Latvia, which is a member organisation of HAI. She holds an MA in Philosophy (University of Latvia), MSc in Bioethics (Union Graduate College, US), and Doctor of Science in Sociology of Health and Illness (Riga Stradins University). Signe currently works as a researcher and lecturer in Bioethics at the University of Latvia, and is serving as Vice-Chair for the Riga East Hospital Foundation Research Ethics Committee. She is also a faculty member of the Advanced certificate program: E-Education in Research Ethics—Central and Eastern Europe (Union Graduate College, US & Vilnius University, Lithuania). Signe has authored and co-authored several peer-reviewed articles and book chapters on research ethics and bioethics. Her scientific interests include clinical research ethics, rational use of medicines, ethics of patient/physician relationship, and reproductive ethics. She was elected to the Board in 2014.